

NHS Scotland Counter Fraud Services (CFS) provide a full service to the NHS in Scotland through a centrally based, professionally accredited team of specialists dedicated only to counter fraud work. We are determined to combat fraud wherever it arises and aim to ensure as far as possible that healthcare funding is used for legitimate patient care.

Working in partnership with other NHS organisations and professional associations, we raise awareness of the detrimental effects of fraud on the health service in Scotland.

Only a very small number of healthcare professionals, staff and patients seek to defraud the NHS, but our aim is to identify those areas of misuse of resources and reduce this to an absolute minimum.

Together we can stamp out fraud
